

Mill Valley/Corte Madera Corridor Study

Project Number: 2720

LEAD AGENCY

County of Marin

LOCATIONS

COST

$250,000

FUNDING SOURCES

$250,000 NTPP

PROJECT DESCRIPTION

This project would study the three potential alternative routes between Mill Valley and Corte Madera, including (1) the Horse Hill/Alto Hill Pathway and connecting roadways, (2) reopening the Alto Tunnel for bike/ped use and (3) the Camino Alto/Corte Madera Ave on-street route. The connection between Corte Madera and Mill Valley was identified as one of the top priority projects in the county, based on public input in the 2006 Marin County Bicycle Plan Update public workshops. Currently bicyclists use either Camino Alto or the U.S. 101 "Horse Hill" bike path via local neighborhood streets. While most of corridor is in incorporated Mill Valley or Corte Madera, sections of the project are located within the unincorporated "Alto Area" which is situated at the northeast edge of Mill Valley. Furthermore, the County of Marin owns portions of the Alto Tunnel and its approaches.

STATUS

County of Marin preparing Request for Proposals for release in 2008

For questions, please contact Dan Dawson,
Marin County Department of Public Works, ddawson@co.marin.ca.us or 415-499-6287